Cashier of First National, How ever, Was Then in Charlotte. Jones Was Seen in Norfolk.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] CHARLOTTE, N. C., March 21.— Franc H. Jones, the absconding assistant cashier of the Charlotte National Bank, was seen Monday in Norfolk by a Charlotte traveling man. Jones had shaved off moustache and side whiskers, but the Charlotte man was positive of the Identification. Officers of the bank believe Jones will attempt to leave the country, if he has not al-ready done so, by steamer from Nor-An interesting feature of the defalcation which has not been generally known is the exact detail that led to its discovery. When Jones did not show up at his desk Monday mornan officer of the bank called up his home by telephone, and asked if he was ill. The reply was that he had been called to Richmond, Va., by an unexpected telegram from Cashter John

M. Miller, Jr., of the First National Bank of that city.

It so happened that the Charlotte bank official knew that the Richmond tanker was in this city on a visit, and he immediately called Mr. Miller ever the 'phone and requested him to step down to the Charlotte National Bank. When asked about the message Jones claimed to have received from him. Mr. Miller was greatly surprised. ind quickly denied all knowledge of and quicky wenter all knowledge of any message to Jones, having been in Charlotte at the time Jones claimed to have received a message from him at Richmond.

With Two Men.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., March 21.—
Facing a powerfully built negro prisoner, erdowed with the strength of a giant and determined to gain his tiberty, Deputy Sheriff Johnston and life negro cook, Frank Anderson, battled desperately for twenty minutes in a narrow corridor of the county jail to frustrate the prisoner's designs and to save their own lives. By a clever ruse, the prisoner, Bob Alexander, succeeded in getting out of his cell into ruse, the prisoner, Bob Alexander, succeeded in getting out of his cell into the corridor, knocked down the coek, threw the deputy aside and tried to uslock the outer door to libetry. By a mischance the prisoner got the wrong key into the lock, and before he could withdraw it, the deputy and the faithful cook were upon him, and for twenty minutes there was a furious fight, in which the deputy and the cook were badly hart, but the prisoner was finally loverpowered. The he refused to enter his cell, and the was necessary for the sheriff to fell him to the floor with a club before compliance with the order was made.

Despondency

General debility is caused by mental or physical overwork, with imperfect assimilation of noteinment, or by some acute disease from which the vital forces have been prestrated and the entire organism weakened so as not to easily raily. To restore health it is necessary that the blood should be purified and made new.

The case of Mrs. E., M. Spears, of 92 Mt. Pleasant Street, Athol, Mass., is a common one and is given here in order that others may be benefited by here experience. She says: "I had been sick for a year from indigestion and general debility brought on by overwork and worry. I had tried many remedies, but found no relief. I suffered from swelling of the limbs, loss of appetite and dizzy spells, which became so severe towards night that I sometimes fainted away. I was billous, and my hands and arms would go to sleep for an hour or time that I could hardly keep awale, it had frequent cramps in my limbs and severe pains at the base of my head and in my back. My blood was impovering that I would never get well.

addition to these will be the members of the Woman's Missionary, Union, the Baptist Young People's Union, and other kindred organizations, whose time of meeting is simultaneous with that of the convention.

The Woman's Missionary Union will probably hold its sessions in the Second Baptist Church. The president of this organization is Miss Pannie E. S. Heck, of Raleigh, N. C.; Recording Secretaries, Mrs. A. C. Johnston, of Baltimore, Md., and Mrs. F. C. Wallis, of Georgia. The treasurer is Mrs. W. C. Lowndes, of Baltimore, Miss Annie Armstrong, of Baltimore, who has been the secretary of the union since its organization, resigned last year, after a most efficient term of service, and her successor will be chosen at this meeting.

The night before the convention opens the Baptist Young People's Union will hold its annual meeting Dr. J. M. Shelhorse, of East Lake, Ala., presdling.

The last convention passed a resolution requesting for Dr. I. H. Haw.

The last convention passed a resolu-tion requesting Rev. Dr. J. B. Haw-thorne, of Richmond, to address the body norme, of Riemmond, to address the body on some subject of his own selection. "Meeting at Norfolk.

The general features of the program of the General Baptist Convention at the Jamestown Exposition are as follows: On Wednesday afternoon, May 22d, representatives of about eight of the missionary organizations of the missionary organizations of the worthy Events" in their work during the past two years. It will be an inspiring occasion to see the leading secretaries of these great organizations on the same platform to give a comprehensive view of the vast work which is being prosecuted by the Baptists of the United States and Canadaboth in home and foreign missions.

On Wednesday night it is expected that Rev. O 1 Gifford, D. D., of Buffalo, N. 7 and stev. John E. White, of Atlanta, Ga., will address the convention on the following topic: "To What Extent May a Christian Denomination Properly Engage in the Correction of Public Evils?"

On Thursday forenoon Dr. W. J. Will lamson, D. D., of St. Louis, will lead

Social Reunion.

Social Reunion.

One object of the convention is to bring the influence of the denomination to bear effectively upon the solution of some of the great moral problems of the day.

On Thursday night Dr. E. Y. Mullins, president of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, will address the body on the contribution of Baptists to American civilization. It is probable that the session will close with a grand social reunion.

In connection will close with a grand social reunion.

In connection there is to be a Baptist exhibit, chiefly of educational and missionary work, in a building erected by the Virginia Baptists for this purpose. This exhibit will remain throughout the exposition, and will furnish a large fund of information in regard to the achievements of the denomination in these respects. Altogether, the convention promises to be a meeting of surpassing interest.
